At the meeting of the Public Library Board, May 8, it was expected that the use of the Exposition building, purchased by the St. Louis Union Trust Company as trustee of the library, will be considered. Nothing definite in that regard has been decided upon as yet, but the board intends to make the building as profitable as possible. The property, as it belongs to the Public Library, is exempt from taxation. The purchase of the Exposition building Wednesday turns the property over to the Library Board, to be used as the Central Carnegie Library site after the World's Fair, but in the interim the building will be put to any use that the board shall deem wise.

Several plans have been outlined regarding the future use of the building, and it is the general opinion of persons interested in the matter that it will be thrown open to the public for exhibitions and athletic events as in the past.

The Exposition site was sold Wednesday for $250,000, which was subscribed by public-spirited citizens, headed by the officers of the St. Louis Union Trust Company. The purchase of the building practically covers the bonded indebtedness of the building, and there was only the one bid made.

About a year ago the movement was put on foot to purchase the Exposition building and grounds as a site for the Carnegie Library. Many stockholders contributed their holdings in the Exposition Company to aid in securing the property.

Don't take Ayer's Sarsaparilla if you are well. Don't take it simply because you are sick. Take it for what the doctors recommend it and you will like it, become fond of it, for it gives health, strength, vigor.

SECRETARY HITCHCOCK BOOMED FOR SENATOR

Republicans Are Using His Name to Frighten National Committee Men.

CITY COMMITTEE SHOWS FIGHT.

Intentional Slight Given to Legal Adviser Charles Nagel—E. A. Rozier an Anti-Roosevelt Candidate.

Republican conventions will be held in Camden, Iron, Putnam and De Kalb counties to-morrow. It is said that the success of the Akins forces in securing instructions in the conventions held last week will be followed up by the endorsement of Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock for his work as an official and as a Republican.

And thereby hangs a tale. It is said that when National Committee men were last in Washington he was told by Congressman Barthold that if he did not let up his fight on the Secretary of the Interior and the State Chairman a backfire would be started which would eventually shelve the Colonel.

According to report, the Congressman told Kereas that if Mr. Hitchcock were forced to resign he would be the logical Republican candidate for United States Senator from Missouri. Evidently the National Committee men did not take to the woods in his fight against the Secretary, for the opening gun in the backfire was put into action last Saturday in Cape Girardeau County.

Resolutions adopted in that convention commended Mr. Hitchcock. It is said that similar resolutions will be passed by the Akins faction in other conventions which they may control. If any great number of them are secured, it may easily be seen what a disastrous effect they will have upon Colonel Kereas' hopes.

Rozier in Poor Trim.

The fight on E. A. Rozier has assumed a time which puts him in a bad light. He has become known as the anti-Roosevelt candidate for the State Senate, and as such is receiving the cold shoulder in every convention he attends. He failed to get so much as a mention at the Cape Girardeau convention, which was supposed to be his own property, he having lived in that county.

It is said that the Akins faction is more than willing to have Rozier come in the race. He is acknowledged by all the politicians as a poor manipulator. As chairman of the State Convention two years ago he was a failure. The personal friendship between Rozier and the National Committee man is said to be the excuse for Colonel Kereas' interest in pushing the former United States District Prosecuting Attorney.

Other candidates which the Kereas faction has endeavored to groom have fallen by the wayside. Charles Morris of Trenton refused to take the endorsement of his own county and is said to want none of it. He is much of a hand-wagon politician and has named the Grundy County candidates without binding them by any sort of instruction.

In the City Committee.

Charles Nagel was rudely awakened from the St. Louis Republican Club dream of supremacy in the City Central Committee last Tuesday night. A few months ago he was named the legal adviser of the committee and for a while was quite the chief man in the committee's organization. His advice was sought and accepted with a readiness which was cherub-like in such matters.

It was prophesied at that time that he would discover the real inwards of the game before the spring session, and his resignation of Hiram Lloyd as committee man from the Twenty-second Ward was the first step which he and his friends took.

William H. Hahn, the secretary of the committee, was supposed to be the next stay of the St. Louis Republican Club faction. He announced that his crowd could control the committee. So that when William H. Hahn of the Twenty-fourth Ward proposed an unknown political light named Charles Nagel, he was supposed to be the next stay of the St. Louis Republican Club faction.

On the roll call Hahn refused to vote for Nagel, and the committee was divided into seven votes. C. D. Comfort, a Kereas lieutenant, received the remainder, and the committee was divided into seven votes. C. D. Comfort, a Kereas lieutenant, received the remainder, and the committee was divided into seven votes.

Rollins Feels Content.

Senator Rollins of the Thirty-fourth Senatorial District claims that he has no opposition for re-nomination. He is one of the leaders of the Kereas faction. It is said that Late St. Louis is thinking of becoming a candidate, and that he will be the next stay of the St. Louis Republican Club faction.

Congressman Barthold's arrival in the city to-morrow is expected to bring a demonstration as his previous visit. The congressional primaries in the Tenth District will be held on Monday. The only contest in the primaries will be in the Seventh and Eleventh wards, where local statements wish to show their power.

TWO MORE WARRANTS ISSUED.

Articles in the Woman Burglar's Plunder Identified.

Two more warrants, charging burglary, were issued yesterday against May Willard, the woman burglar who masqueraded in male attire. Several more persons identified clothing which the Willard woman had stolen, but Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson declined to issue more than three warrants all together, saying that was sufficient to send her to the Penitentiary to await the trial.

FLYNN NOMINATED ROOSEVELT IN HOUSE

Republican Members Failed to Applaud Aluring Pause for the Purpose.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Washington, May 8.—Dennis Flynn of Oklahoma nominated Theodore Roosevelt for President in 1904 in the House to-day, and the Republican members failed to respond.

Only a few of the majority members were absent when Delegate Flynn addressed the House on the standstill bill. He called attention to the fact of Republican pledges as recorded in national platforms, to give the territories statehood rights, and said, dramatically:

"It was in the platform, on which McKinley ran, and will be in the platform upon which Theodore Roosevelt will be nominated."

Mr. Flynn's declaration was distinctly heard in every part of the House. He held that momentary pause, expecting the Republican members to cheer his statement, but every member sat silent, and Mr. Flynn continued his speech, disappointed, but consoled by the thought that his hearers were too deeply engrossed in his argument to indulge in political applause.
